

WANT CHANGE IN THE PARTY RULES

TO ALLOW EACH STATE TO CHOOSE METHOD OF SELECT-ING DELEGATES.

CALL FOR NATIONAL CONVENTION

Wm. E. Werner of Rochester Nominated for Chief Judge of Court of Appeals.

New York, Sept. 23.—The republicans of New York today declared in favor of changing the party rules so that each state may determine its own method of choosing delegates to the national convention and so that states
which give the big republican pluralities
shall have a proportionately large power in selecting candidates for president. For this purpose the New York republicans call for a special national convention at an early date.

The proposition and its subsidiary question developed the biggest fight of the republican state convention held here today. This struggle was staged,
however, before the committee on resolutions.

The resolution was finally approved
after the original measure had been amended to recommend the retention of the congressional district as the basis of representation.

Later the resolution was adopted by the convention, which thus made the demand for the change in rules the stand of the party in this state.

The convention wound up its labors
by the nomination of Wm. E. Werner of Rochester, associate judge of the court of appeals, for chief judge and Frank H. Miscook of Syracuse for associate judge of the court of appeals.
Judge Werner defeated State Senator
Edgar T. Brackett for the nomination for chief justice by 44 votes to 141.
Frederick E. Crane of Brooklyn, a supreme court justice, opposed Judge
Miscook, but was defeated by a vote of 44 to 157.

At the night session of the convention, when the resolutions were adopted, the candidates named, there was a rousing demonstration in favor of United States Senator Root, the permanent chairman.

TELLS OF EXECUTIONS

AMERICAN DOCTOR, HIMSELF
ROBBED, BRINGS STORY OF VILLA'S CRUELTY.

Shoots 270 Federal Prisoners—Physician Forced to Give Up $300,000.

Marfa, Tex., Sept. 23.—A startling tale of the execution of 270 Federal prisoners, captured in the battle of Pancho Villa, and of his own mistreatment
by Villa after he had gratuitously ministered to the latter's wounds, was brought here today by Dr. C. E. Shackelford, an American physician, who has spent the past six years in Santa Rosalia, Chihuahua, Mexico. Incidentally, Villa has not been captured and executed by federalists, as reported, but is at Santa Rosalia at the head of 2,000 troops, Dr. Shackelford said.

Without assigning any reason, the physician said, Villa offered him the alternative of leaving Mexico within twenty-four hours or being stood up and shot, first robbing him of everything but his clothes. The physician took him $200,000 in notes, the property of the Bank of Mexico. He was then forced to give up his surgical instruments and $5,000 worth of medicine, he declared, even though he had been using it to treat the wounded in Villa's command. He modeled his to the border at Presidio, Tex., with great difficulty.

Other refugees arriving here from the state of Chihuahua without exception reported conditions there are deplorable.

Railroad Objects.

Juarez, Sept. 23.—Because of a protest that the military has interfered with officials of the Mexican Central railroad, orders were received from Mexico City today that the Mexican army would no longer have jurisdiction over the trains except for the transportation of troops. The complaint was made, railroad officials declare,
because the military authorities designed certain favorite firms to receive cars for goods when other applications had prior claim. There is a shortage of cars.

Gold Consignment.

London, Sept. 23.—A record consignment of gold bars valued at $4-$50,000, reached London today from the Transvaal.

Vital Statistics Law Will Be of Aid in Many Ways

Austin, Tex., Sept. 23.—R. P. Babcock, state registrar of vital statistics,
today stated that the health department is apprised of the importance of the vital statistics law by numbers of letters that arrive each day from not only all sections of the state, but from the various corners of the United States requesting certified copies of the death certificates of certain persons.

Many of these have come from insurance companies and secret orders
with headquarters in various sections of the United States desiring proof evident of deaths before allowing insurance or death benefits. The law has also proven of benefit to individuals seeking to ascertain whether their

HAVE NO FEAR OF FOREIGN TARIFFS

SIMMONS DOES NOT THINK RES-OLUTION CONCERNING TRADE RELATIONS NECESSARY.

WILL OFFER MINIMUM RATES

All Nations Are Treated Fairly By Bill as it Now Stands.

Washington, Sept. 23.—Chairman
Simmons of the joint congressional tariff conference committee informed
officials of the state department today
that he did not believe it necessary to supplement the tariff bill with any resolution designed to continue existing trade relations with foreign countries.

The point raised yesterday by Secretary Bryan and which had given state department officials concern, was the subject of a further conference today between Senator Simmons and Robert F. Rose, a foreign trade adviser of the department.

"I don't think there is any danger of foreign countries imposing tariff penalties against the United States for any reason for any such action," said Senator Simmons tonight. "The new tariff will offer the minimum rates of the United States to all countries and I can see no just reason for any countries taking action to disturb existing conditions or to withdraw favored nation treatment from the United States."

The state department was at work
today upon the preparation of a resolution, such as the officials desired, to have passed by both houses of congress, guaranteeing that maximum penalties of the proposed new law would not be applied against any country until an opportunity had been given for the negotiation of new treaties.

The conference today completed most of the administrative sections of the tariff bill, but left open a number of important items that will be disposed of tomorrow. These included the relative sections of the law, the anti-dumping clause and the section giving 5 per cent rebate in tariff on goods
brought in American owned ships.

The senate's amendment prohibiting attorneys from taking customs cases
on a contingent basis was agreed to.
In its place the section of the bill
will give the secretary of the treasury authority to levy a penalty in the form of extra duty against goods
where manufacturers have shown an unfair discrimination to disclose manufacturing costs or other information considered necessary by American exporting officers.

The Clarke cotton futures tax will be taken up by the conferees tomorrow morning. An opportunity will be given Senator Clarke to make a short statement and a similar opportunity
will be given Senator Smith of South Carolina, who has drawn a bill for a cotton futures tax that has received
some consideration in the senate.

THE M. K. & T. MERGER

ACTIVITIES OF RAILROAD MEN
IN CONNECTION WITH CONSOL-IDATION BILL CONSIDERED.

Case at Wichita Falls Brings Out Evidence—Correspondence Identified.

Wichita Falls, Tex., Sept. 23.—This morning's hearing in the Katy dissolution and penalty suit was taken up with identification of a great mass of correspondence from the files of the Wichita Falls lines here.

C. L. Fontaine, general freight and passenger agent of the Wichita Falls
lines, was on the stand all morning.
The correspondence sought to develop
two main points, the direct connection of local officials with C. Halle, traffic manager of St. Louis, and the fact that on weight shipments between Fort Worth and points on the Wichita Falls
line, the routing was largely over the Katy by way of Whitesboro, the Fort Worth and Denver getting only a small amount of this business.

Activities of railroad men in connection with the consolidation bill was the subject of some evidence. Mr. Fontaine said that it was his understanding that employees were to acquiesce in business men with the Katy's intentions. For this reason, copies of the membership
rolls of the house and senate were sent many agents.

Col. Busby Dead.

McAlester, Okla., Sept. 23.—Colonel
Wm. Busby, known as the coal king of Oklahoma, one of the richest men in the state, died here this morning.
Death was caused by a carbuncle.

Colonel Busby was born in Pemberton, N. J., fifty-nine years ago.

Colquitt at New Orleans.

Tells Plans Ownership of Warehouse
in Congress.

New Orleans, Sept. 23.—Governor
Colquitt of Texas, said here tonight
that he intended calling a conference of southern governors to discuss the question of public ownership of warehouses. The Texas executive is on his way with a party to view the Panama Canal.

Governor Colquitt said if public warehouses could be obtained no other way he favored a special tax for the purpose and uniform laws among the southern states governing them.

CRIMES ARE SIMILAR DOCKETS CROWDED

BELIEVED KILLING IN INDIAN-APOLIS DONE BY MAN WHO MAKES PRACTICE.

Method Is Same in Each Case—Gets Victim Into Hotel Room
and Robs.

Indianapolis, Sept. 23.—Convinced that the young man who yesterday
brutally murdered and robbed Joseph Schlansky, a clothing merchant, in a hotel here is the same person who has committed similar crimes in several eastern and middle western cities, the local police department tonight asked officers in every large city east of the Mississippi river to watch for the slayer. Accompanying the requests were descriptions of Jos. Ellis, about 21 years old, of Richmond, Va.

Investigation of the murder of Schlansky showed that it had been coolly planned and the escape so cunningly
carried out as to throw off suspicion temporarily. After slaying the merchant the man discarded a collar spotted with blood, walked to a nearby store where he purchased another and then, returning to the lobby of the hotel wherein his victim lay dead, remained for an hour or more. Late in the afternoon the slayer returned to his room and then, going to the union depot, secured his suit case from the check room and is believed to have caught an eastbound train.

From information gathered by the police, Schlansky's assistant committed similar crimes in Louisville last week and left there Saturday for Indianapolis. Previous to the Louisville robbery the man is supposed to have attacked clothing merchants in Cleveland, Toledo, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

In each town where the man operated his scheme was the same. He would register at a hotel under an assumed name, call on either one of the smaller clothing merchants or a second-hand dealer and, explaining that he had some samples he must get out of his possession at once, ask the dealer
to go to his room. Once in the man's room the victim either was struck down or forced, at the point of a revolver, to submit to being bound and gagged. Then his valuables were stolen and the merchant was discovered by the police in every case that was called to the attention of the police it was the boldness with which the robber had worked that thwarted suspicion until his victim was disguised and slayer had disappeared. The slayer walked from the merchant's
store to his hotel where, in most cases,
he passed through the lobby, chatting
to his intended victim.

Suggests Making

Cowboys Out of
Uncle Sam's Army

Chicago, Sept. 23.—It is the duty of the United States to stock its government lands in the west with cattle, put the army, especially the cavalry, to work as cowboys to handle
the animals, supply the packers with this beef at cost, so that the price
would be lowered to the people and a threatened meat famine due in six or eight years averted. In the opinion of A. M. Dublin, of New York,
a delegate to the American Meat Packers association, who today declared that only by some drastic action could the meat shortage be prevented.

"Unless some action is taken there will be no meat on the tables of American working men in the next decade.
The government has no higher obligation than to relieve this situation which every day is becoming more serious. The land so stocked could supply the army with meat first, then
the rest could be sent to the packers at cost and the consumer could get it with the mere price of dressing added. The lower price would be astounding. This action or something just as efficacious must be done
at once."

CONFIDENTIAL TRIAL WILL PROCEED

ASSEMBLY MANAGERS HAVE
CONTRIBUTORS TO FUNDS
READY TO TESTIFY.

COURT REACHES NO DECISION

Listen to Arguments—Will Decide Today Whether Sulzer Will Be Tried.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 23.—After a day
spent in listening to lengthy arguments,
the high court for the trial of the impeachment of Governor Wm. Sulzer adjourned today without having decided whether the impeached executive will have to answer charges involving the misuse of the funds contributed for his campaign last fall. It is expected
however, the court will reach a decision early tomorrow.

In event of a denial of the motion to strike out the three articles dealing with the campaign contributions, the Sulzer will have to answer the charges
as the preliminaries are concerned, and the actual trial will begin.

That counsel for the assembly managers are confident the court will not dismiss the three articles is evidenced by the fact they announced that Jacob
H. Schiff, Abram I. Elkus, Henry Morganthau and others who contributed to the Sulzer election fund, would be on hand tomorrow to testify.

Jacob I. Schiff, counsel announced,
would be the first prosecution witness
on the contested facts. His $2500 contribution was not mentioned in the sworn statement of election expenses
filed by the governor.

Governor Sulzer today submitted to the ruling of the high court that the assembly had the constitutional right to impeach him. This announcement was made at the opening of court by Judge D. Cady Herrick, chief counsel for the impeached executive, who declared that "the governor will bow to the will of the court, and will exercise
none of the prerogatives of his office
pending the determination of the impeachment charges."

The governor's statement of campaign expenses and disbursements,
the latter being presented by the secretary of state, will be made a part of the record. It is on this statement that the prosecution bases its more serious charges.

The documents showed that Sulzer received $1640 in furtherance of his election and that he expended $1724.

The articles of impeachment charge
him with having received at least $4500
of which no mention is made in the sworn statement.

One session of the high court was about equally divided between efforts of the governor's counsel to convince the judges that the articles dealing with campaign contributions should be dismissed and the arguments of their opponents that they were rightfully
included in the impeachment charges.

D. Cady Herrick filed the opening paper. He was followed by Harvey D.
Hinnman, who presented the brief prepared by former Judge Irving G. Vann, the latter being presented by illness
from appearing in person.

Former Senator Brackett led the defense of the articles, and was seconded
by former Judge Parker and Eldred Kresel. Austin G. Fox, of the government, had not completed his argument in rebuttal when court adjourned. Ellihu Root, Jr., filed a brief upholding the contentions of his colleagues in the governor's camp.

The principal contention of the government was that facts specified in the three articles objected to were committed, if at all, while Sulzer was a private citizen. Their opponents argued that they were so intimately connected with the office that it would be impossible to separate them.

The Proceedings.

When the court was called to order
today, Sulzer's attorneys were prepared to exhaust the last of their legal ammunition to prevent the story of his alleged misuse of campaign contributions from being told on the witness stand.

Defeated yesterday by a vote of 51 to 1 on their motion for dismissal of the impeachment on the ground of its un-
constitutionality, the governor's counsel offered a motion to strike out the three articles of impeachment charging him with filing a false statement of campaign contributions and with the use of the funds for speculation in Wall Street.

The motion was prepared by D. Cady Herrick, who argued that the alleged offenses were not impeachable on the ground that they were committed
before the governor was sworn into office.

Former Senator Edward T. Brackett
was appointed to reply in behalf of the assembly managers. His brief held, in substance, that the acts of a candidate for office during a campaign are im-peachable after he has become an officer-elect are so intimately connected with the actual holding of the office
as to be inseparable.

The court's decision on this question
should clear the decks for beginning
the actual trial of the case tomorrow, unless something unforeseen arises. If decided in the affirmative there will still be five articles of impeachment to which Mr. Sulzer will have to answer. Conviction on any one article might result in removal.

One of the leading Sulzer lawyers,
Judge Irving G. Vann of Syracuse, was forced by illness to return home to-
day. His brief supporting the contention that the assembly was without authority to impeach for offenses
which occurred before the governor assumed office, was read by another lawyer.

Nearly all the members of the courts
were in their seats when the cry at the direction of Presiding Judge Cullen, sounded the familiar "Hear ye,
hear ye."

"The court having overruled the motion of the respondent," said Judge Cullen, "to dismiss the articles of impeachment on the ground that the assembly had no right to prefer the charges at an extraordinary session, it
now becomes incumbent upon the re-

GOVERNOR OF OHIO ADDRESSES

FARMERS' CONGRESS AT PLANO, ILL.

Emigration of Youth to Cities Is Great Problem—Small Farms Are Needed.

Plano, Ill., Sept. 23.—"Keep the boy
on the farm and restore community
life in the country."

This was the message brought to the twenty-third annual farmers' national congress by Governor Cox of Ohio at the opening session of the congress here today. Governor Dunne of Illinois endorsed the message. All the speakers of the afternoon talked on the high cost of living and all agreed that it centered in the emigration of the country boy from the farm
to the city.

"To keep the boy on the farm is our problem. It is a problem we have signally failed to solve," Governor Cox
said. "The solution of it is smaller farms. There should be more farm owners working their own land, instead of big corporations owning large tracts worked by tenants or overseers."

Governor Cox said he saw no reason why the country should not be made more entertaining.

"Every township should have a community house and a high school. A strong sense of community life should be developed."

Charles T. Sanford, president of the congress, discussed the "great margin
of expense that is found somewhere
between the producer and consumer
and adds to the high cost of living."

"There is a great margin of expense
somewhere between producer and consumer which leads to the justly charged complaint of the ultimate consumer
of the high cost of living," said President Sanford, in calling the session to order today. "This," Mr. Sanford asserted, "leads to confusion in the public mind as to the real status of the farmer and the profits arising from his occupation."

"During the last two decades," he continued, "the agricultural industry has not kept pace with the increase of population, falling behind 15 1/2 per cent.
during the same period that has seen
an extraordinary increase in the valuation of farm lands until it is no longer an easy or simple matter for the average man to become the owner of a well improved farm. Moreover, the percentage of tenant farmers is steadily increasing in some states with alarming rapidity. It cannot be said with any show of reason that the growth of a tenant class indicates a stable or desirable economic condition.
Without minimizing in any degree
the importance of efforts to increase production and to conserve the fertility
of the soil, it may be safely affirmed that American agriculture will never be permanently established until it is possible to make it permanently possible for the farmer of average ability to own the land he cultivates."

While the man of exceptional ability or exceptionally favorable circumstances may become wealthy by reason of increase in land values or good fortune, the yield of good crops, the stability of agriculture and the ultimate prosperity of our entire citizenship depend chiefly on the measure of prosperity which attend the labors of the average farmer in the average farm home. These conditions are with us and while we strive continually to remedy them wherein they are adverse,
we must in common justice to all men
strive to make it reasonably possible
for all men to attain the ideal state of the home owner.

Relieve Producer.

"Therefore this congress should give due weight in its deliberations to such measures or policies as tend to relieve the producer of the handicap of this economic burden and establish equitable relations between producer, consumer and the distributor of products.

If the agricultural millennium does not arrive in the near future, it will not be for lack of agitation in behalf of plans to bring it about. Scarcely a day elapses, but some new scheme is proposed, having for

REED V. MURPHY IS YET COMPLETE

SECOND SPECIAL VENIRE OF 50 EXHAUSTED YESTERDAY

TEN MEN HAVE BEEN ACCEPTED

Because Tender Sensibilities of Some Jurors Are Affected by Horror They Are Disqualified.

The second special venire of fifty men drawn from which to select a jury in the case of Dudd Reed, charged with first degree murder, was exhausted at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and two seats in the jury box were still unfilled. Instructions were given by Judge Richey to Sheriff S. S. Fleming to summon twenty-five additional veniremen to report at 9 o'clock this morning.

Three additional jurors were chosen yesterday, making a total of ten in all. The selection dragged with each, the defense and the state contending the acceptance of every man replied to questions did not fit their case.

The Qualified Ten.

The ten men selected so far are as follows, the first seven being those selected Monday and the last three the ones chosen yesterday.

A. Mayr, groceryman, 1700 Speight street, Waco.
W. W. Taylor, Iveyman, West.
J. A. Grim, farmer, South Bosque.
C. Manner, farmer, Speightville.

Unusual Features Attended.

Freudlich against the plea of temporary insanity by the state, charged with crime, the statement by a venireman that the "insanity plea has been imposed upon in the courts" together with questions from defense attorneys calculated to test the sentiment of prospective jurors with reference to what effect the insanity plea of a dead man's head had been referred to in rendering a verdict featured the second day in court of the case of Dudd Reed, who is facing a charge of first degree murder in the Fifty-fourth district court. The admission of a venireman that the "insanity plea has been imposed upon in the courts" together with questions from defense attorneys calculated to test the sentiment of prospective jurors with reference to what effect the insanity plea of a dead man's head had been referred to in rendering a verdict featured the second day in court of the case of Dudd Reed, who is facing a charge of first degree murder in the Fifty-fourth district court.

Victim Was Beheaded.

Reed is charged with complicity in the killing of John Henry, who was killed on the public road a few miles from Marlin, Falls county, May 10. His headless body was found the morning of the 11th and the head was dragged from a nearby stream the next day.

Progress of obtaining a jury was exceptionally slow. Out of a total of fifty special veniremen summoned hurriedly Monday night, forty-six appeared at court at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. This panel was exhausted at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, with only three jurors selected from that number. This makes ten jurors chosen in all, seven having been selected the previous day from a special venire of seventy-five men.

Another Venire Today.

Immediately after the adjournment of court the sheriff, who was instructed by Judge Richey to summon twenty-five additional veniremen to be in court at 9 o'clock this morning. From this twenty-five it is hoped to obtain the two needed jurors.

As was the case on the first day of the trial, opposition on the part of veniremen to the death penalty was the principal cause for dismissal. Sixteen veniremen disqualified themselves in answer to the question from State's Attorney Frank Olcott, as to whether they had conscientious scruples against the death penalty.

In a sharp reply to Jerome, Governor Stone charged that the deputy attorney general had hounded Thaw from the night Stanford White was murdered.

THE CITY HALL.

To The Morning News.
Waco began her municipal existence about 1855—nearly sixty years ago. By 1910 she had grown to 26,500 population.

By computation on basis of school enrollment, which in 1910 overran her official count, she now has about 34,000, or less.

In April, 1909, the former aldermanic form of government passed out, leaving a net bonded indebtedness of $1,256,000—the total net accumulation of about fifty-five years.

Included in this amount are $49,000 in bonds, issued in the early 80's to build the present city hall. Not one of these bonds has ever been paid—though for thirty years or more the city has paid 5 or 6 per cent interest on the amount, to say nothing of sinking fund, if any. At 5 per cent that means $2,450 annual interest for city hall, or city business office, and purchase price yet to pay. In thirty years this amounts to $73,500, paid virtually as rent—but not a bond paid off. Nor can be before 1930.

But since April, 1909, have been issued fifteen different lots of bonds, to the extent of $1,252,500, plus $100,000 old floating debt, totalling $1,352,500. All this in four years.

Added to the debt for prior nearly sixty years equals $1,256,000, plus $1,352,500, total $2,608,500, less $54,000 paid off. Interest alone is over $125,000 per annum. Some debt for a little city.

Hadn't we better keep our present city office building until it is paid for, and in general quit burying ourselves in bonds?

What will bankrupt a firm will bankrupt a city. If you doubt it, take a tour of observation among the cities and towns in the state of Oklahoma.

Let us keep taxes low, to invite factories and home-owners.

Respectfully, H. R. STILES, M. D.

WAITED FOR RAIN TO FURNISH PROOF

When It Came Mrs. Cunningham of Waco Knew Her Vitalitas Beliefs Were True.

Besides soaking most of Texas, the heavy rains the middle of September did one other thing. They proved to one lady that her beliefs and hopes regarding the new earth fluid, Vitalitas, were well founded.

Mrs. G. D. Cunningham of 610 North 4th street, Waco, for years was a sufferer of rheumatism. This was severe in places, could scarcely leave her bed mornings due to pain in her lower limbs. Then she tried Vitalitas and relief gradually came until she was free from pain.

"But I will not give Vitalitas credit until it rains," she then said. "That will be the test. My rheumatism always comes on worse before and during wet spells. We will wait and see."

Then came the cold, wet weather with its torrential downpours, lasting a whole week. It brought the proof that her relief from rheumatism was full and complete.

"I now take pleasure in recommending Vitalitas to all sufferers of rheumatism," Mrs. Cunningham says.

Not only for rheumatism is Vitalitas effective, but also for all derangements of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels and blood. Toxic poisons are removed from the system and new and vital force is imparted to all weakened or diseased tissues. It is effective even where everything else fails. You can sample Vitalitas today and see how it is extracted at the Powers-Kelly Drug Co.

The question when next asked met with objection from the state. Mr. Olcott classed it as unfair, and just the same as if the testimony of a witness was being used in the selection of jurors. He said the fact that Richey's head was cut off would be evidence to which the jury was entitled. The question was asked of J. S. Tolbert. He replied he could try the case without prejudice caused by the fact that the dead man's head was cut off.

Influence of Newspapers.

In his objection to questions, Mr. Tolbert also said: "A man never reads the papers—that is, an intelligent man does not—without forming an opinion. That's what we read for. The way the papers read the accused was guilty. But that opinion would have no effect on me in the jury box as the sworn statement of a juror would be taken by me before the report in a newspaper. Papers do not try a man. What they print of a case is no evidence. I could try the case from the evidence here, fair alike to state and defense."

C. R. Hilton also was excused by the defense on the statement that he could not give a beheading case the same consideration as one where the man had only been killed.

Against insanity plea.

The defense also made use of the question injected the previous day relative to any prejudice against insanity as a plea of an accused, or, rather, as a plea for lessening the degree of crime or mitigating the punishment. In his examination, R. Hill made the statement that

"the insanity plea had been imposed upon," saying "I have prejudice against insanity urged as a defense for crime and could not give that defense the same consideration as another defense. I could try the case from the law and evidence if the judge told me in his charge that insanity was permissible as a plea in the case, but it would take more evidence to convince me that the defendant was insane at the time of the killing, than it would to show me that he acted in self-defense." Judge Munroe dismissed the venireman.

Mullins Also Affected.

W. P. Mullins answered to the question regarding what effect the fact that Richey's head had been severed would have on him, with the statement: "I could not give the same impartial trial. The prosecution asked, 'You would not convict a man who cut another's head off in self defense would you?' He answered no. Then this question came from the state attorney: 'If the defendant was charged with killing Richey by shooting and his defense was insanity, could you not give his defense of insanity just as fair consideration as if he cut his head off?' He said he could. The state was satisfied with the juror, and the defense challenged him."

J. D. Ring said he had an opinion as to what should be done with the men who killed Richey, but had no opinion as to Dudd Reed's guilt or innocence. He said the man in custody naturally was supposed to be guilty or the officers would not arrest him. He said, "It would take evidence to change my mind, and I could not go into the jury believing Reed was innocent, as I think they had evidence or they would not have arrested him."

He Had Been Misinformed.

Rivers Torrence was challenged by the state and excused. Torrence said under examination: "I have no scruples as to capital punishment in some cases, but I have an opinion as to the punishment in a case where deceased had killed a brother, the defendant, as I understand this case, deceased killed a brother of the man on trial, and in that case I would not give the death penalty. The prosecution informed him that was a mistake as to the killing of the defendant's brother, and the defense objected to the remark of the state as evidence."

With Conscientious Scruples.

The following were excused because they held conscientious scruples against inflicting the death penalty for crime: Joe Eberensky, J. W. Vanderve, J. H. Simmons, S. T. Walker, Jim Hunt, T. A. Armstrong, James Stack, John Baker, D. D. Dismore, W. J. Miller, Milton Strauss, G. W. Pulse, J. P. H. Ball, W. J. Stewart, the latter answering "decidedly so." J. H. Gilmore was disqualified as he had discussed the case. D. M. Presnell was excused by the state, after being accepted by defense. C. C. Landrum was excused on his statement that it would require eye witnesses' testimony for him to assess the death penalty. Other veniremen excused for various reasons were: Glen Connolly, a cousin of an attorney for the defense, J. A. Lawson, J. R. Carlson, R. A. Niles, S. R. Wallace, J. J. Puteh, D. F. Kinnaman, who had a set opinion, E. E. Bridges, W. J. Riley and A. T. Wolf.

New Men For the Jury.

The additional jurors chosen were J. E. Ficklen, Waco, engaged in the fire and insurance business; E. W. Corey of Waco, retail clerk, and F. N. Kirk of West, hotel man.

The second special venire was exhausted at 4 o'clock and court adjourned. Sheriff S. S. Fleming will bring in twenty-five additional veniremen this morning to resume the selection of a jury. A deputy left last night for McGregor in an automobile where veniremen will be summoned.

The state used ten of its fifteen challenges in the two days passed and the defense used nine.

Father of Richey Looks On.

Conspicuous in the courtroom yesterday was Hoon Richey, father of the dead man. Seventy years of age, with head white as snow, Mr. Richey was as much the object of interest to the spectators as was the defendant, Dudd Reed. Reed has not spoken to his attorneys regarding the case, nor to any one else, save Deputy Sheriff Leo Jenkins, who conducts him to and from the jail, since the trial began. Sitting listlessly by, he rests the defense of his life in the hands of his counsel.

BRYAN RAISES OBJECTIONS

Says Public Has No Desire to Delve Into His Private Affairs.

Washington, Sept. 23.—Secretary Bryan says he doesn't mind discussing his sources of income, but he thinks it is going a little too far to ask him to make a public detailed account of his private expenses. A speech by Senator Martine defending the secretary's chautauqua lecturing, in which the senator said Mr. Bryan was supporting mission students in Japan, brought many inquiries today.

The secretary issued this statement: "We are not educating any boys in Japan. A Japanese student lived with us for about five years, but Senator Martine's remarks probably refer to students whom we have assisted in other parts of Asia, but I do not consider it necessary to discuss the matter."

"I have discussed the sources of my income, but I am not yet convinced that the public requires me to discuss such contributions which I see fit to make to a worthy cause."

"I may add that I answer these questions with reluctance and with the feeling that the newspapers represented by those who ask the questions feel more curiosity than the general public does in regard to my private affairs."

BARBER ACQUITTED.

Judge Hilde White Slavery Must Show Commercial Purpose.

Wichita, Kan., Sept. 23.—Lee Baker, a barber, was acquitted of a white slavery charge in the federal court here today after Judge John C. Pollock had instructed the jury that it must be shown that Baker took Cora Stover to Texas for commercial purposes before the jury could convict him of violating the Mann law.

Baker yesterday entered a plea of guilty. Judge Pollock asked if the plea was based on the interpretation of the Mann law in the Diggs case in California. Baker's attorney answered that it was. Judge Pollock then said the Mann act applied only to commercial features of the interstate transportation of women and suggested the plea be changed to not guilty.

"It was not the aim of congress to prevent the personal escapades of any man," said Judge Pollock.

GIRL TELLS STORY.

Oklahoma Man Wins Her Hand and Kills His Rival.

Stigler, Okla., Sept. 23.—An unusual story of how Willis Dickinson won the hand of Mary Perkins and then shot his only rival, Berry F. Thompson, 65 years of age, to death to prevent her from breaking her engagement and marrying Thompson, was told on the witness stand by the girl today in the district court. The jury convicted Dickinson of second degree murder and sentenced him to serve twenty years in the penitentiary.

New Jersey Primaries.

Trenton, N. J., Sept. 23.—Incomplete returns indicated Fielder's election by the democrats by a plurality of about 10,000 votes and that Stokes in the republican contest polled between 60,000 and 70,000 more than any of his opponents. The progressive vote was light, the third party Thompson was not more than 8,000 throughout the state. Colby ran about two to one ahead of Osborne.

Colquitt is Grandfather.

Austin, Sept. 23.—According to a telegram sent to J. T. Bowman, the governor's private secretary, Governor Colquitt became a grandfather by reason of the birth of a baby daughter to his son, Lieutenant Sidney Colquitt. Lieut. Colquitt is at present located in Washington. According to the message both the mother and baby were doing well.

Chicago Fire.

Chicago, Sept. 23.—Fire in a storeroom in the basement of the Chicago Inter-ocean late today destroyed a quantity of print paper and ink. Smoke filled the lower floor of the building and resulted in a call for extra engines but the flames were confined to the storeroom, and after an hour's fight the blaze was controlled.

NOT WHOLLY THE KATY'S "SAY."

The management of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas lines in this State will be willing to concede the press of Texas—and none more than we—has been most generously disposed toward recent legislation for its convenience and improvement; that the press has ever been the first to urge more fairness, more liberality, more broadness toward Texas roads in the attitude of legislatures, people and they charged with the enforcement of statutes. Especially has the friendly spirit and patriotic eagerness of the press for a better, bigger, more serviceable Katy railroad in Texas been manifested with respect to pending litigation by the State.

But at the same time the press is not going to say that the Katy's freight and passenger service, its accommodation of the public in any of the distinctly public features of operation, has for years been by any means what it could and should be. The press would track the truth. The Katy is authorized to operate for the benefit of the public and it is for the public's benefit it should operate. These recurrent "local rumors" out of Dallas of Texas Katy general management centralization in St. Louis, of cessation of all improvement on the line until this State suit is judicially determined, are by now pretty well established as actualities, we think. To a degree there has been public sympathy and understanding for the Katy in that decision not to go ahead, improve and extend until it knows its legal status in Texas fully. But it will be ill for the public and not at all well for the Katy if it stands too heavily on that sentiment; there may certainly be a reversion of public feeling, if not at worst a complete reversal. In plain terms, if any improvement—passenger train operation, freight carriage facilities, terminals and stations—is an immediate need for the public's comfort and business's fair treatment, the Katy better achieve that improvement if it is to continue its Texas operations—as it certainly is. Honestly put, the back of the public is badly bent; we hope surely the Katy will not supply the breaking last straw.

LIMIT OF TECHNICALITY.

At the outset of the trial of Gov. Sulzer by the high court of impeachment his counsel would have everybody to understand that the governor was not seeking a refuge in technicalities. This trial is, of course, ordered quite as a court trial is ordered except for the makeup of the court. The governor's counsel had to urge that a special session of the assembly could not bring impeachment proceedings since these were not a subject submitted by the governor. He objects that certain of the offenses with which Mr. Sulzer is charged are not impeachable. Mr. Sulzer is charged with violating a most serious statute of New York State—the corrupt practices act designed and theoretically adapted to inject a modicum of needed honesty in that State's political campaigns and systems. Mr. Sulzer's counsel presented primarily that four members of the court were of the governor's accusers with respect to the investigating committee's report that resulted in these proceedings.

This primary objection had a deal of sympathy and support from the press of New York and many other cities remote from New York. There attached to it some considerations of justice, fair play and decency—who would think of a grandjurymen sitting as juror in the trial of an indictment he voted to return or a citizen sitting as juror in the trial of one against whom his enmity was a matter of public and political knowledge? But this one objection that seemed without the realm of technicality—

most threadbare technicality, at that—has been overruled. Gov. Sulzer must have it determined whether he has done serious malfeasance in office and whether he should not have had office by reason of this violation of a prohibitory statute, alleged. One cannot conclude that this trial is stripped of all political influences, knowing the complexion of the assembly politically and thinking on the discussion that followed the investigation's report. But for all that, here is a situation that New York State cannot afford, and the general public does not want, to have Mr. Sulzer avoid facing through the operation of any sheer technicality unbolstered by precedent.

ASSESSMENT AT 75 PER CENT.

There has been nothing in the attitude of Waco's taxpayers in the past, especially its larger taxpayers, large corporations and public service companies to indicate that assessment of their property at three-fourths the full value will meet with a different reception, in point of popularity, than assessment on the two-thirds value basis.

It is very much an equalizing plan of assessment the board proposes under the newly adopted Somers system that plays no favorites. The full rendition law has never gone for much in Texas. The Somers system goes for all; it fixes the full value of property and its valuations include quasi-public corporate franchises. These last should be taxed. If the board of equalization makes the city's tax rate $1.50 the $100 on a three-fourths value assessment, changing from $1.75 the $100 of property on a two-thirds value assessment, the city's assessment rolls this year will increase some 9 and a half millions of dollars in net values, and the city will have tax revenue increased by one-eighth the full amount.

We consider the new taxing process "equalizing" because it calls for full valuation of property and assessment of a reasonable percentage thereof at a reasonable rate. The change from two-thirds to three-fourths basis imposes neither hardship nor injustice on small taxpayer or large; fair accounting with the city, for the city's upkeep, is now called for. The citizen with a house and lot will pay his due share; the corporation with much property, the corporation with a franchise and the individual with rich holdings will pay their due shares. Naturally the increase in proportion of value taxed will affect almost wholly the person with large holdings. Yet a two-thirds basis is altogether just. And in the very nature of the eternal objections to high tax rate, such objections will be appreciably diminished if there is but a rate of $1.50 for city government purposes.

An increase of this scope in tax receipts will justify increased expenditures for public improvement and improved public service. And every taxpayer in Waco knows the need of these. The board's proposed tax system is welcome.

"FREEDOM" EVER EMBODIES LAW AND ORDER.

A report of the Chicago meeting of Industrial Workers of the World has it that these misnamed "Workers" telegraphed "greetings and messages of comfort to a selected list of members now imprisoned, among those remembered being the McNamara brothers, the Los Angeles dynamiters; Albert Ryan and Don Legere, now inmates of San Quentin prison in California."

Those named were put in the penitentiary for heinous crimes. All the nation cried out for punishment of they who did the crimes. The I. W. W. in Chicago is offering an insult to the nation's principle of liberty under the law. It differs but little in nature from the violence his organization has offered too often to the actual upholding of the law. Communities have arisen and expelled members of this anarchist crew. It appears unavoidable that if America is to continue "the land of the free and the home of the brave" there must be eliminated from America all concert of antagonism that makes license of liberty and considers brave those acts of violence that good men and law-abiding know are cowardly.

EXEMPT COTTON PALACE SHOWS AND PROPERTY.

That legal phrase, "purely public purpose," comes pretty near applying to the aims and operations of the Texas Cotton Palace Association. It is but the necessary admission fee that removes the association's activity from the class of the strictly public. In actual effect, however, the Cotton Palace exposition is wholly public. Its property, for obvious reasons of care and preservation, must be controlled by an organization since the municipality has not taken charge. It is an exhibition dedicated to all the people of all the State. Money derived by the governors of the exposition through admission fees and exhibits and amusement features goes to eliminating debt remaining from the exposition's infancy and to bettering its facilities for accommodating exhibitors and the public.

It appears there has recurred the question of the city imposing a tax on the amusement features of the Palace; perhaps the imposition of a county tax, also, under the "show and circus statute." It also appears that under the city's new system of assessment for taxation the association's property would be loaded with a burden of some 1200 dollars taxes, for this property is given full valuation of upwards of 100,000 dollars. As to the show tax question, we cannot see how such a tax legally can be imposed under the statute's especial exclusion of attractions that are part of a public exhibition. As to taxing the association's property, it is a very simple matter for the commission to arrange either for rebate or exemption.

There should be no public tax of any character put on the activities and property of the Texas Cotton Palace. The Palace produces no private revenue, benefits financially no individual and is entirely devoted to the education, the interest and entertainment of the people of Texas. We have no doubt this essential treatment by our local authorities, city and county, will be arranged for.

THE CIRCUS.

From "Artemus Ward" down to Mr. Eugene Wood, American humorists have essayed to analyze the popular infatuation with the circus—an universal infatuation only a degree less violent than our own nation's passion for baseball. But Artemus had weakly to compromise on a list of reasons why persons should attend his animal show and Mr. Wood is at his best within the limitation of describing the circus's hold on countryside folk. It is not to explain young love and adult enjoyment of the circus any more than it is to interest a land of dementia baseballiana in a psychologic disquisition of our habit of sitting in the bleachers and shouting our throats into the care of a doctor. It is enough to know the circus and baseball are here—very much here—and that they are imperishable American institutions. The great metropolis of the great region as well as the trade center of three under-populated counties will never be without its week or day of circus.

This is the circus's day in Waco—and the Waco region's day.

By many in Central Texas will the appointment of Mr. O. P. Pyle, of Belton, to the state industrial accident board be considered an honor well deserved. Mr. Pyle is editor of a strong, esteemed contemporary, the old Belton Journal, and his comment on public events, read with interest in this section and in newspaper offices of the state, show him to be well informed as to the conditions concerning which the new board is an hoped-for alleviant. He has been president of the Texas Farmers' Union, and that fact rightly gave the governor to conclude that Mr. Pyle is known and respected in the state to a degree that will inspire confidence in his service on a state board charged with so serious a duty. He will represent the employers of Texas in the make-up of the board fixed by statute, and in whatever matters the board may have to adjust they who deal with it may be assured of fair treatment by the member from Central Texas.

Texas Viewpoints.

Proximate and Remote Prevention.

Col. Henry Ellis says that Mrs. Wickham says no attempt has heretofore been made on human life but intimates there will be unless the suffragist claims be recognized. The Wickham—our readers have guessed—is a mill suff. The colonel's paragraphed prescription in Denison Herald, "In order to guard against fortuitous," is that "it might be well for Englishmen to change their stoves from wood to gas burners throw away the rolling pin and hide skillet and tongs." That is—pardon us, Colonel—a precious poor prescription. Eleven in 10 mill suffs don't know there are stoves, rolling pins, skillets and tongs in their houses, having forgotten the very word, kitchen. The only sure preventive for the Britons who never will be slaves but may, alas! be mill suffs's corpses is to insist on magistrates who sentence, stone walls that make a prison and iron bars that make a real cage, turnkeys who keep and wardens who watch. Let 'em starve! Or off to Baffin's Bay with 'em! There has been no loss of life only because the bombs didn't boom properly and the aim of the mentally topsyturvy is usually poor.

The Literary.

No. 1 of Vol. 22, The Literary, is thankfully acknowledged. The Literary is the magazine of Baylor University students; in appearance and in content it lives up to its name. There is no better original medium for the encouragement of literary talent, or of literary inclination that may be shaped into ability, among students than the school or college magazine. Among such publications, The Literary has the name of doing its work thoroughly. In its pages through many years have appeared short story, poem, disquisition, address by young men and women for whom it has served as guide to later success, and present success, in dramatic writing, fiction and poetry. Its alumni contributions and its editorials invariably are worth time for careful reading. The new volume begins in a way that promises thoroughly to maintain the repute of The Literary, its popularity and service to the student body. The editor, Mr. W. Roy Christian, and the manager, Mr. T. E. Sanderford, have our wishes for the success of Vol. 22.

"Conservatism" Plus.

We admit the convict systems that survive in Texas, while calling for upheaval, are not promising of immediate success if turned into any modern method that would be considered an "innovation" for this State. There must be root and branch reformation. But we think it is possible for the governors of our convict systems to provide profitable activity for the convicts that is likewise healthy, more contented and more man-making activity for the convicts. The Galveston News concludes a somewhat detailed discussion of "Good and Bad Ways to Use Convicts on Roads," thus: "At any rate, the State's ventures in road construction ought to be gradually undertaken, and the honor plan furnishes the ideal method for such experimentation." If only Texas's public concerns would get away from that poor idea that whatsoever they undertake of novelty for Texas, is "experimentation." A method may have obtained successfully in another State or another land for years; column after column may have been written in press and magazines concerning its details and results. Yet if it is decided to give Texas the advantage of such a success immediately we hear or read talk of an "experiment!" How far can the State get with its institutions if this is to be the attitude—in penology, in instruction and care of the physically and mentally defective, in public improvement, public safety regulations, public health control, the ordering of public utilities? Take this working of "honor men" convicts on county roads, for instance: It has, as we noted lately, succeeded indegree—chiefly in large degree—in Alabama, Arizona, California, Colorado, Georgia, Illinois, Kansas, Louisiana, Montana, North Carolina and other States. Even Michigan, whose prison officers opine that it is not desirable to use convicts on the highway, admits that in all cases of such use "the prisoners have taken kindly to the employment." By all means, let Texas's "ventures in road construction be gradually undertaken," if Texas must live up to the caution "experimentative" that has obviously got the State so little.

Waco and The News.

Minnesota Gale.

Duluth, Minn., Sept. 22.—Mariners today ventured out of the local harbor in the wake of a snow-laden gale, at times reaching a velocity of sixty miles an hour, causing shipmasters to seek shelter behind islands and owners to cancel sailing orders. The wind reached a velocity of forty-eight miles in Duluth early today and broke many windows.

Only five boats made the Duluth harbor Sunday and a few others came in today.

Right! But Not Our Reason.

Judge McAdoo of New York is the jurist who swatted "The Lure" with his tongue of authority. This reminds the Waco News that there is a repertoire of plays ranging from "The Reckless" to "Sapho" that remain on the boards, not counting others regarded as spicy that have been sent to the storehouse. The News has the nerve to ask the judicial McAdoo "why get in Anthony Comstock's class?" It is well the News should stand up for home-made goods. One George W. Stough was born and reared at Waco. He received his training at Baylor. Never knock a home institution.—Hush Nugent Fitzgerald, in Fort Worth Record.

From Mexico-Waco Supply.

Mart can get connection with the Mexico gas field if she desires, according to a statement made by George W. Stough, the head of the concern which has been granted a franchise to furnish gas to the city of Waco. Work on the pipe line is expected to begin within thirty days. If Mart is to be given the same rate as Waco, it will mean cheap fuel and a big advantage to consumers. The matter is worth considering and no doubt the management will be here in due time to make Mart a proposition looking to prompt connection to the Free from Mexico, which is expected to run within about five miles of Mart anyway, in piping to Waco.—Mart Herald.

Files Valley Orphan's Home Becomes Independent District—Shiply Announces Five Elections.

Hillsboro, Tex., Sept. 23.—County Superintendent Shiply, pursuant to provision of the act creating an independent school district for the Files Valley Orphan's home, today announced the names of five additional trustees. They are Dr. J. D. McLean, T. J. Files, R. W. Coffin and Pat Brooks, all of Itasca, and J. L. Statton of Hillsboro. Seven other trustees now in office are elective.

spondent to make answer to the charges.

Sulzer Renounces Right.

Judge Herrick, chief counsel for Governor Sulzer, then announced that in view of the fact that the court had refused to dismiss the proceedings, the governor would renounce his claim to the right to exercise the functions of governor, pending termination of the trial.

"When these articles of impeachment were first presented," said Judge Herrick, "the governor was advised that there was doubt about the legality of the proceedings and for that reason he declined to step down from his office. Ever since the recent decision of Supreme Court Justice Harbrouck ruling that he had not the right to pardon a prisoner he has ceased to exercise any of the functions of his office. Governor Sulzer will perform no functions of governor in the near future pending the termination of his trial."

That a candidate for office is as amenable to the laws governing the place to which he aspires as is the occupant of it, was the burden of the argument of Edgar to Brackett, for the prosecution. A criminal act committed before an official's induction to office made the perpetrator as guilty in his new position as before his action, he declared.

Brackett reviewed that portion of the corrupt practices act dealing with the publication of campaign expenditures and then said: "It will thus be seen that from the time a person is nominated for office he comes under the provisions—he is not an officer, but he is seeking to become one and in order to become one he is required to conform to these directions of the statutes."

"The defense, in resting upon the proposition that impeachment may not be had, must claim that the people have a right to elect a criminal to high office and that, having done so, there is no relief; that such election purges the offender from the taint of crime and leaves him free to assume the role of an honorable man among honorable men."

Would Purge Crime.

"Shall it be said to students of our system of government that securing the highest office in the state purges such loathsome crime; that the way to avoid punishment for perjury is to be elected to high office and that such election retains the occupant in association with decent men in high place? If so, then what is the result, when, having thus been elected governor, the individual at once after his election but before his official term begins, commits perjury?"

Brackett then drew a picture of the possibility of a criminal being retained in the high office of governor, despite the fact that he committed a crime a few moments before assuming the duties of his position and, continuing:

"When the members of this court of last resort, sitting in and a part of this august tribunal, come to the courtesies of the next holiday season, must they feel that they are clashing hands with a perjurer and a thief because the admitted perjury and the larceny were committed fifteen minutes before noon of January 1, 1913, and therefore he cannot be impeached for the commission, whereas, if committed fifteen minutes after noon he might be? When at the next regular session the legislature sends its committee to notify the governor of the state that it confers the message he is taken to a criminal or one with criminal characteristics? And must such a man be permitted to send to the houses of the legislatures his views on public affairs and be allowed to approve or disapprove legislation?"

"When it comes to the dread issue of life and death, must the criminal feel that he is applying to a fellow criminal for reprieve of pardon and, if denied, go to his doom with the just feeling that he has been judged by a fellow criminal with himself?"

Warrent Valid.

Troy, N. Y., Sept. 23.—Supreme Court Justice Cushman, at a hearing today on the application for a writ of habeas corpus for James C. Garrison, held for contempt of the assembly, ruled that the commitment warrant as issued by the assembly was valid and sufficient, contrary to the argument of Garrison's attorneys. The case was continued until next Saturday, when the justice will hear further arguments.

Good Roads for Telephone Talk

THE good roads movement has not been confined to the highways.

The Bell Telephone system has covered the country with "good roads" for telephone talk, reaching every nook and corner.

There are more than 12,000,000 miles of these "good roads" in the Bell system. Some of them are strung in single pairs or in aerial cables from pole to pole; others are hidden away in underground conduits; they cross lofty mountain chains; pass under mighty rivers and reach the heart of each industrial and commercial center of the nation and to the most remote habitations.

These "good telephone roads" of the Bell system are all operated by one system, under one policy, forming one continuous system of intercommunication. They connect more than 7,500,000 telephones for universal service.

ATTACKS ROUND BALE PETITION

Henson Claims Will Place Farmers at Mercy of a Few Cotton Speculators.

Galveston, Sept. 23.—That granting the petition of round bale or gin compressed cotton advocates would put the small cotton buyer and small cotton shipper out of business, eliminate interior compress and concentration points, place farmers at the mercy of a few cotton speculators, completely revolutionize present methods of buying and handling cotton was the opinion of F. E. Henson, member of the Arkansas Cotton association and prominent cotton buyer of Little Rock, who testified today before the interstate commerce commission here.

"Contention of round bale advocates at the present hearing is that a reduction of approximately 33-1-3 per cent of regular freight rates be granted round bale shipments when same is made on through bills of lading in carload lots with a minimum weight of 50,000 pounds. This it is claimed would kill the cotton industry as it now is and lay a foundation for cotton gambling and lowering of prices."

All railroads of the south, cotton associations of Texas and Arkansas and farmers' unions and Galveston cotton interests are lined up against granting the petition asked for by round bale advocates.

Testimony adduced today indicates that concentration of cotton west of the Mississippi river would be made at ports of Galveston and New Orleans.

CIRCUS HERE TODAY

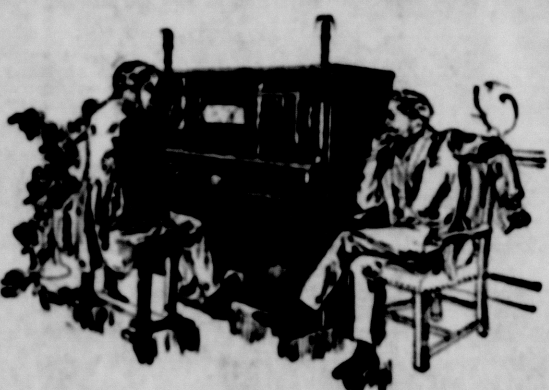

RINGLING BROS. ARRIVE ON FOUR TRAINS FOR EXHIBITION.

Will Parade at 10 O'clock—More Gorgeous Than Ever Before.

In the early hours of this morning the first of the long trains carrying the Ringling Brothers' circus arrived in the local yards of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad from Dallas, and this was followed by three more sections. This season the circus is traveling according to railroad officials, on the longest trains ever used by an arena show and these bearing the heaviest equipment. The four trains comprise 87 cars and their arrival will add to the local population 1,500 people, 400 horses, 30 elephants, 40 camels and 100 tons of wild beasts—the largest menagerie now on tour.

In addition to the circus, the Ringling Brothers bring here the massive spectacle of Joan of Arc, which, with its picturesque scenery, glittering ballet, gorgeous pagantry and electrical effects, was the marvel of the engagement in Chicago this spring. More than a thousand people appear in this wordless play, which pantomimically and in great ensemble groups tells the dramatic story of the Maid of Orleans and how she went forth to battle for her country and her king. Incidental to this is the coronation procession, which, with its armored soldiers, richly caparisoned horses and magnificently gowned ladies and gentlemen of the

SEEKING RELIEF FROM TAXATION

COTTON PALACE DIRECTORS APPEAR BEFORE CITY COMMISSION.

NEW ASSESSMENT IS HEAVY.

Mayor and Commissioners Sympathize and Satisfactory Plan May Be Evolved.

Appealing for relief from taxation, directors of the Cotton Palace association yesterday morning to ask that some plan be agreed upon by which the association could be relieved, and it was finally decided to ask the attorneys for the Cotton Palace and the attorneys for the city to get together and find a way out of it.

The city does not want to charge the Cotton Palace the taxes. They recognize the institution as a public affair in which all the people of Waco are interested and they do not want to deplete the treasury of the association.

Heavy Assessment. W. J. Neale was spokesman. He was accompanied by President W. H. Hoffman, Secretary S. N. Mayfield, Directors C. H. Cox and T. P. Duncan. Mr. Neale said that last year the taxes were levied on the basis of an assessment of $10,000; that this year the assessment has been raised to $24,000; that on a tax rate of $1.50 the association would have to pay into the city treasury the sum of $36,000, and that it was money the Cotton Palace could ill afford to pay out.

All Are in Sympathy. Mayor Mackey and all the commissioners said they would be glad to find some way by which the association could be relieved of the taxes. Commissioner Littlefield believed the city could remit the taxes, but said it would be a bad precedent. It was finally determined to refer the question to the two attorneys. Director Neale said the Cotton Palace had two very good lawyers retained, without pay, and they are looking for a chance to get out of the expense. All of the commissioners favor no taxes for the association.

ROLLS ARE GROWING

797 STUDENTS BOOKED AT BAYLOR UNIVERSITY TO DATE.

Other Applicants Will Be Taken Care of for Several Weeks.

A total of 797 students had enrolled at Baylor University up to 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon when the registrar's office closed for the day, and from all indications this number will continue to be swelled throughout the week, possibly reaching the 1000 mark before the fall term is very far under way. The showing is an excellent one and all the officials of the university are pleased.

Yesterday completed the two days allotted to registration and classification, though arrangements have been made to take care of the other students who will continue to come in for the next few weeks. Practically every student who was in the city yesterday is prepared to go to his classes today.

New Scholastic Year. Formal opening exercises of the new year, which is Baylor's sixty-ninth, will be held in Carroll chapel at 8 o'clock this morning. In addition to the introduction of the new members of the faculty and the formal address by President Brooks, there will be some special musical numbers by members of the fine arts faculty. The program will be short with no superfluous numbers and the friends of the university are cordially invited to be present.

Due to the enforcement of entrance requirements this year upon all students coming here to enter the college from institutions not affiliated and the advertisement of this fact in advance, the collegiate standing of the pupils this year is higher than before, a fact that is noted with much satisfaction by the authorities.

Immediately after the close of the opening exercises this morning the classes will meet at their regular periods for the assignment of lessons and actual recitations will be under way on Thursday.

PETITION FOR A NEW BRIDGE

Revived After Lying Dormant Two Years—It Is Referred.

At the meeting of the city commission yesterday morning a petition signed by Dan Ford and others, dated October 19, 1911, was revived and referred to Street Commissioner Foster. This petition asks for the construction of a new bridge at the crossing of Waco creek and Seventeenth street. It was stated in the petition when it was drawn that the bridge is unsafe. The petition was referred October 27, 1911, to the street department and October 31, 1911, it was reported unfavorably. It has been carefully kept by City Secretary Davis since that time until Ford requested a few days ago that it be brought out of hiding.

For Permanent Bridge. "Who dug up that old petition," said the mayor when it was presented. Commissioner Foster—I don't care what it cost. There ought to be a permanent bridge there.

Commissioner Littlefield—Ten wagons pass on Eleventh street where one passes on Seventeenth.

Commissioner Foster—If we improve Seventeenth street, it will divert some of the traffic from Eleventh street and relieve the congestion.

Mayor Mackey—Then you want a bond issue for bridges.

Commissioner Foster—We would have to have a bond issue as we have no money for the work.

FINE BUILDING FOR POULTRY

Space Allotted By Cotton Palace Directors—To Be Big as Floral Building.

The Cotton Palace directors met yesterday afternoon at the grounds and located the new poultry building, which is to be placed directly behind the main building, on the ground recently purchased. The new building is to be about the size of the floral building, and will be an important addition to the exposition.

The directors also made an inspection of the decorative work on the interior of the main building, which has been altered from last year. The decoration has been under the charge of George Coleman and Miss Ruby Reed Robinson, who have been busy on it for several weeks.

Directors Are Gratiified. The directors expressed themselves yesterday as greatly pleased with the effect, and consider it a marked improvement over last year.

The recent rains put the grass, trees and shrubbery of the exposition grounds in excellent condition, and it will be an easy matter to keep them in shape till the opening dates. President Hoffman says that there is no doubt that the Cotton Palace this fall will be by far the best that has ever been presented. The requests for concessions and advertising space already received, he says, are greater than the final total of any of the previous years.

In their petition to the city commission to have Tenth street opened from Trice avenue to Brook school property owners interested do not ask that School street be narrowed, too, but suggested this to the commission, in order to give a seventy-five foot roadway on Tenth street. C. C. Beckley, one of those interested, yesterday said that under his proposal Ninth street would not be affected. He said School street must be narrowed, too, but believed the feasible way to provide sidewalks and good streets to the Brook school would be to narrow School street and open up Tenth. The matter will be gone into by the commission at the meeting Friday.

Y. M. B. L. HEARS FROM COUNTY

ROADS COMMITTEE ENDORSES SUGGESTION OF COUNTY ENGINEER.

CALLS FOR $850 ANNUALLY

A Communication From Chairman Cooke Received and Filed—Invite Auto Clubs to Waco.

Crate Dalton, chairman of the committee named to raise the amount necessary to make up for the deficiency in the fund subscribed for road building, reported at last night's meeting of the Young Men's Business League that the committee would shortly get busy. The following communication was presented:

"September 23, 1913.—To the President and Directors of the Young Men's Business League, Waco, Tex.: Gentlemen—The road and street committee of the league submit the following report:

"1. With respect to the matter of co-operation between the city of Waco and the county of McLennan in dragging the roads leading out from Waco, we report that throughout the county almost all of the various communities have already made arrangements to co-operate with the county authorities, the county paying two-thirds of the cost and the particular community one-third of the cost of dragging the roads of the community after each rain.

To Preserve Gravel Roads.

"It is only necessary to call your attention to the fact that expert opinion, concurred in by our very competent county engineer, holds without dissent that it is absolutely necessary for the preservation of gravel roads, as well as dirt roads, that the same have proper attention after each heavy rain, and it has been found that a system of dragging these roads either with spill leg drag or some of the various improvements thereon, will make our gravel roads almost equal to macadamized roads, but that without such attention these gravel roads so rapidly deteriorate that it is almost a waste of money to build them.

Quotas County Engineer.

"Our county engineer has furnished this committee with a detailed statement of the mileage of the roads leading out of Waco, which are properly considered as tributary to this city. The aggregate mileage is 137 miles.

"We quote from the letter of the county engineer: 'Each man will be able to drag about four miles a day at a cost of $5. Therefore, we will have to pay for 34 days' work after each rain, or, in other words, each rain will cost us $170. If we have 15 rains during the year, it will be necessary for us to spend $2,550 for dragging the above named roads. That will mean that it will be necessary for you to raise a fund for this purpose amounting to about $850 a year.'

"The county proposes to furnish the drags and to pay the other two-thirds of the cost of having this work done."

"It is the unanimous sense of this committee that the city should accept the proposition made by the county and we believe that the automobile owners in the city will readily co-operate in this matter, since it would only need a dollar or less from each auto owner to raise this fund."

Would Show Photographs.

"2. The division of highway engineering of the Agricultural and Mechanical college has for several years past maintained a good roads exhibit at each of the leading fairs held in the state, and in this exhibit they have a collection of photographs of improved roads in various counties of the state, and other interesting photographs of this character. The photographs from each county being grouped so as to make as good a showing as possible. McLennan county is not represented in these exhibits. Since we have several stretches of very good roads in the county that would show up very well in these exhibits, we recommend that a small sum be appropriated to procure the necessary photographs. We cannot state an exact amount that would be necessary, but Mr. R. J. Windrow, our county engineer, has offered to get up the necessary data and see that the pictures are properly taken. The county now would have no funds to appropriate for such a purpose, hence we think that a few dollars spent by the league in this manner would prove a good advertisement, since these exhibits attract a good deal of attention wherever they are shown, and nothing advertises a county better than a showing of good roads."

With reference to the good roads

"3. With reference to the good roads committee, with instructions to combine Good Roads and Automobile Day at the Cotton Palace with the governor's proclamation. The recommendations as referred to in the report with respect to raising money as outlined in the committee report were adopted."

Favor Signboard Plan.

"Wishing to carry out the proposed plan to put signboards on the trunk lines entering Texas telling of the advantages of Waco and advertising Waco and create a publicity fund to carry out ideas which the publicity committee of the Young Men's Business League is working on, the directors went on record as favoring a plan to raise $300 per month to carry on the work."

"The committee that has charge of the interurban celebration reported that the Southern Traction company was pulling off the celebration and that they would send invitations to the stockholders of the interurban and to the county and city officials and the directors and officers of the two commercial organizations. The committee is arranging to let the Hillbore people use our band and stated that several of the cars would be decorated, and that a suitable ribbon or uniform would be worn by the Waco delegation on this trip."

Sanitarium Proposition.

"D. E. Hirschfeld appeared before the board and spoke in behalf of the sanitarium proposition. Stating that he knew of some influential men who would be willing to subscribe $50,000 in stock to build the institution, provided that the bath house and sanitarium are put in their hands. He suggested that the bath house and sanitarium be put within the business district of the city. It would cost about

Eight more homes in Waco have Pianos today that did not have them yesterday

This means 8 more families took advantage of our purchasers' co-operative plan today, saving from $90 to $110 by a plan that really saves.

Several of these buyers are paying for their Pianos at the rate of only 16c a day; two are paying only 13c a day—less than Waco's per capita daily car fare.

Surely no family without music need hesitate to place a Piano in their home on such small obligations. This plan is an ideal combination of low price and low terms.

You have choice of the very best makes of Pianos, such as the Chickering, Emerson, Haines Bros., Goggan, Angelus, Apollo, Foster and Armstrong Player-Pianos.

Do you know the meaning of a Thos. Goggan and Bros. guarantee? The basis of our large volume of business is the best quality Pianos for the least money; and your satisfaction is guaranteed or money positively refunded.

Here at last is a money saving plan that saves, and 16 cents a day is all you pay on any low priced upright Piano.

It is our fault if we do not make this plain to you. You simply cannot afford to go without a Piano this year and you cannot know all that this plan means to you until you see the quality of our Pianos and compare the prices.

The Big Music Store of Texas

Public recently suggested by Mr. Crate Dalton, the committee thinks that this idea might be worked up to a good advantage, but for the same to be a success it would need quite a good deal of preliminary work done by the county authorities, including the county engineer. We consider this matter of so much importance that we do not desire to make a recommendation at the present time after so short an investigation, but will take the matter up with Mr. Dalton and the county engineer and report at a later date.

"Very truly, J. W. COCKE."

"Chairman of Roads Committee."

Would Invite Auto Clubs.

W. H. Hoffmann suggested that an invitation be sent to all automobile clubs in the adjacent territory, inviting them to participate in Good Roads and Automobile Day at the Cotton Palace. It was proposed by Harry Baine to have Good Roads and Automobile Day on the same day as the State Good Roads Day will be held over the state, in accordance with a proclamation issued by Governor Colquitt. He said if invitations were sent to all automobile owners it would in all probability be the biggest day at the Cotton Palace.

Acting upon these recommendations, the matter was referred to the good roads committee, with instructions to combine Good Roads and Automobile Day at the Cotton Palace with the governor's proclamation. The recommendations as referred to in the report with respect to raising money as outlined in the committee report were adopted.

Favor Signboard Plan.

Wishing to carry out the proposed plan to put signboards on the trunk lines entering Texas telling of the advantages of Waco and advertising Waco and create a publicity fund to carry out ideas which the publicity committee of the Young Men's Business League is working on, the directors went on record as favoring a plan to raise $300 per month to carry on the work.

"The committee that has charge of the interurban celebration reported that the Southern Traction company was pulling off the celebration and that they would send invitations to the stockholders of the interurban and to the county and city officials and the directors and officers of the two commercial organizations. The committee is arranging to let the Hillbore people use our band and stated that several of the cars would be decorated, and that a suitable ribbon or uniform would be worn by the Waco delegation on this trip."

Sanitarium Proposition.

D. E. Hirschfeld appeared before the board and spoke in behalf of the sanitarium proposition. Stating that he knew of some influential men who would be willing to subscribe $50,000 in stock to build the institution, provided that the bath house and sanitarium are put in their hands. He suggested that the bath house and sanitarium be put within the business district of the city. It would cost about $50,000 to construct a first-class sanitarium and bath house, which would attract tourists and be the means of securing a special rate to Waco from people in the east and north, he said. Waco water has all the qualities that the Hot Springs or the Marlin water has and if the people would get behind this proposition and build such a sanitarium it would be the means of a big influx of people, he declared. The directors will look into the matter further before taking action.

The directors discussed with Dr. J. H. Harvey, chairman of the home industry and factory committee, the organizing of a wholesale trade league. This matter will have further attention of the committee and it is proposed to have the banks and the hotels connected with the league. Harry Baine said he thought this proposition was the best submitted and stated that Waco ought to develop her commercial center, as this will keep Waco growing more than any other thing.

The publicity committee was asked to get up something unique to advertise Waco and the Cotton Palace in the way of a pamphlet. Pictures and facts about Waco will be given, and this will be distributed on the Cotton Palace grounds.

At the Theatres.

Saturday matinee and night at the Auditorium the attraction will be the famous Smart Set company, an organization of colored funmakers, who have already won a place in the theatrical firmament. As in former years, the production, which is entitled "The Wrong Mr. President," will be headed by Salem Tutt Whitney, a comedian who can always be depended upon to entertain. The offering is described as a musical comedy in three acts. It was written by Mr. Whitney himself and if immediate indorsement in any criterion it is safe to predict that the inimitable star is in line to shine equally well as an author. He has furnished a part for himself that permits him to play a variety of roles. Everything he says and does is the signal for genuine laughter, in fact the offering is a scream from start to finish. Bright lines and tuneful songs predominate, then again the cast is well chosen, combining in its entirety a variety of talents.

hicle destined to establish new records for continuous hilarity and fun. One is bound to be amused as well as entertained. There are specialties and surprises galore and features that are not to be found in any other show.

Succession of Wonderful Scenes.

The production of "Salome," which comes to the Auditorium on October 2, combines a spectacle of rare beauty to the eye, in addition to its dramatic intensity and beautiful music. The complete production consists of a company of over 100 people, including a cast of principals numbering sixteen artists of world-wide fame, a chorus of sixty, orchestra of twenty-five and an additional stage crew to handle the mammoth production. An instance of the manner in which even minor details are carried out is the dungeon scene in the fourth act. Usually where these dungeons or prisons are depicted upon the stage, they show a square stone room with iron doors and windows with iron gratings. As a matter of fact such places did not exist in these times. These subterranean dungeons were usually a big hole cut into the rock and so it is in the "Salome" production. The scene is circular, showing a cave cut into the stone foundation of the palace. The only opening which is a round hole at the top to provide light and air. At the back is seen a stairway winding itself around by means of footholds cut in the rock. This is barred by a massive stone door which slides on grooves cut in the rock.

It is in this dungeon scene where John and Salome have their big duel. John is condemned to death and Salome, for repulsing Herod, is sent to join him. This Herod is said to be not only one of the finest things in "Salome," but one of the greatest compositions in contemporary music.

FIRST GAME OF THE SEASON

Bayler and Howard Payne College
Teams to Meet on the Grid.

The university football team will be placed in position for the first game of the season in Waco next Saturday afternoon when the eleven from Howard Payne college, Brownwood, will meet the new Baylor team on Carroll field in a pre-season practice game. The announcement of this engagement is made by Carter Orin, student manager, who believes, along with Coach Paine and Graduate Manager C. A. Gantt, that all the practice the team here can get before the formal opening of the season will be to the advantage of the squad.

Just who will play in the game has not been determined, but it is likely that Paine will send in quite a number of his hopefuls, partly to show the kind of stuff that is in them, and also to encourage the fellows to do their best.

To Try Out Croelin.

Croelin, star quarter on last year's Waco high eleven, is promising well at quarter and is considered likely that he may be given a try-out in Saturday's practice game. Ferguson, Weeden, Williams, Jenkins, Fouts, Leach and Ward, all good, dependable men, are showing up nicely and promise to make themselves felt in Saturday's game, while all of the members of the squad are coming along nicely and those who have taken the pre-

Marlin H. S. Looks Forward to Great Football Season

Marlin, Tex., Sept. 23.—Marlin high school will be represented by one of the strongest football teams in the state. Eight out of the thirteen 1912 "M" men are back. Twenty-two new men are fighting hard for places on the team, and prospects were never brighter. The team will face a heavy schedule with the fastest teams in the state. The schedule includes games with Mexia, Cameron, Temple, Hillsboro, Waco, Austin, Corsicana and others. Coach Caldwell is jubilant over the prospects and with such men back as Adams, Moore, Collins, Glass, Lenoir, Martin and Hummel and a healthy bunch of youngsters to pick from, he is certain of a winning team.

An electric cooking range tested experimentally in several United States warships has proved so successful that similar ranges will be installed on all new vessels and several old ones.

IS AFFECTED BY INCOME TAX

Approximately 12,000 People in Chicago Receive $3,000 a Year and Over—Tax Causes Jump.

Chicago, Sept. 23.—There are approximately 12,000 persons in Chicago with annual incomes of more than $3,000, according to a preliminary estimate of Frank E. Hemstreet, chief deputy collector of internal revenue, who has just completed an investigation at the orders of the department in Washington. The investigation was to discover the number of persons who will be affected by the proposed income tax if it becomes a law.

"Of a total of 600,000 wage earners in Chicago," the deputy said, "there are about 12,000 having incomes between $3,000 and $20,000 yearly. There are 500 persons whose incomes are between $20,000 and $50,000, 175 whose incomes are between $50,000 and $100,000 and 35 whose income exceed $100,000 yearly. This gives 12,720 persons with incomes over $3,000."

Mr. Hemstreet declared that most of the large corporations to whom he wrote asking a general classification of salaries of their employees, answered readily.

"I found that in proportion to the number of persons employed, banks pay me relative high salaries than any of the commercial occupations in which lists were submitted," he said.

A movement to change the right of internal revenue agents to be arbiters of salaries received by corporation heads has been started by the Illinois manufacturers' association. Recently the internal revenue department has been enforcing a clause of the corporation tax law by taxing the salaries which the agents claim corporations have been paying the important employees in connection with the tax.

It is alleged there was a remarkable jump in salaries when the tax was imposed. The manufacturers' organization will take the matter into the courts.

Committee Chamber of Commerce.
Washington, Sept. 23.—The second annual meeting of the committee of the chamber of commerce of the United States of America began here today.

The committee, of which John H. Payne, newspaper publisher of Boston, is chairman, will have a conference tomorrow with Secretary Redfield of the department of commerce to consider ways and means for securing a more thorough study of foreign markets with a view to bringing about a gradual increase in the percentage of American manufactured goods sold abroad.

Suits Against S. P.
Washington, Sept. 23.—Attorney General McInerney will soon bring a civil suit against the Southern Pacific to relinquish the Central Pacific in accordance with the announcement he made in connection with the Union Pacific-Southern Pacific dissolution.

The entire $40,000,000 of Central Pacific stock is owned by the Southern Pacific and the view of the attorney general is that it is a combination of the two lines and a violation of the Sherman law. Mr. McInerney has not yet brought.

Santurce Is Floated.
Mobile, Ala., Sept. 23.—The American liner Santurce of the New York-Porto Rico line, which went aground in the Mobile ship channel Monday evening, was floated today and is but slightly damaged, by reason of the collision with the British schooner Evadne in the lower bay Monday evening. Twenty-eight feet of the Evadne's port side was carried away by the collision.

Bryan's Philanthropies.
Washington, Sept. 23.—During a brief office of Secretary Bryan's lecture tour, Senator Martin told the senate today that some of Mr. Bryan's "fixed charges" were the education of several young men.

"A few years ago Mr. Bryan was maintaining and educating two boys from Japan," declared Mr. Martin, "and today I believe he is educating three or four young men."

CHARGES AGAINST HOOPER.

Claims Governor Has Gunmen Em-Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 23.—With the declaration that he did not propose "to be intimidated by Governor Hooper nor his gunmen," Speaker Stanton of the Tennessee house of representatives charged on the floor of that body today that "gunmen" were between decks shifted and gave her a bad list to port. The list was so serious that Captain Adams would not undertake to right the coal at sea.

Mr. Stanton's declaration brought to a climax factional feeling between the "regular" democratic wing of the legislature and "the fusionists" who are supporting so-called "law enforcement" legislation proposed by Governor Hooper. On test votes today the fusionists were shown to be in the majority by a narrow margin. The enforcement bills will be called for passage tomorrow.

Coal Shifts.
Galveston, Sept. 23.—The British steamship Iowa, which sailed early this morning for Bremen, carrying 22,500 bales of cotton, was forced to put back to port when the coal which was between decks shifted and gave her a bad list to port. The list was so serious that Captain Adams would not undertake to right the coal at sea.

New York Coffee.
New York, Sept. 23.—Coffee was unsettled by heavy selling, which local gossip attributed to one of the leading roasters. After opening at an advance of 3 to 12 points, the market turned easier as offerings became heavier and prices broke to a net loss of 11 to 15 points. The close was steady; spot easy; Rio No. 4 1/2; Santos No. 4 1/2; Mdd, quiet; Cordova, 12 1/2-14c nominal.

Dry Goods Market.
New York, Sept. 23.—Cotton goods were quieter today, but values remained strong. Yarns were firm. Silks were sold at advancing prices for staples for immediate delivery. The men's wear mills have taken about 60 per cent of the business required in operating the mills on full time for the winter.

Miss Posey at Temple.
Temple, Sept. 23.—Miss Cora Posey of Comanche, associate grand conductor of the Texas Grand Chapter of Order of the Eastern Star, the ladies' Masonic auxiliary, was a guest today of Mrs. E. B. Lewellen between trains while en route to Chicago to attend the general grand chapter of the order, whose sessions will be held in that city during the present week.

Markets By Telegraph

Cotton.

New York, Sept. 23.—The cotton market was extremely nervous and unsettled during today's trading, and fluctuations were irregular. In a general way, there seemed to be heavy realizing by old longs, including some of the bigger interests, while those with foreign and domestic trade connections were among the prominent buyers. Much of the scattering business was supposed to be in the way of clearing up accounts, pending some definite action by Washington on the cotton futures tax provisions of the tariff bill, which private reports said would be conference tomorrow.

Reports of the improved spot demand held prices in the late trading and the market was finally steady at a net advance of 16 to 21 points.

The opening was firm at an advance of 12 to 17 points on the relatively strong power of Liverpool and increasing Washington reports as to legislative prospects. The western belt forecast for unsettled weather, with showers or rain and lower temperatures, contributed to the early buying movement and prices late in the morning worked 18 to 21 points above the closing figures of last night. The market was 18 to 21 points or within 4 points of yesterday's high records.

Liverpool was a big buyer on this advance, but was supposed to be covering the short end of old straddles rather than taking a fresh long interest and after the close of the English market demand from this source tapered off. The market then appeared more sensitive to market realizations or liquidation, and following rather than leading a weekly weather report than expected, prices sold off to within 8 or 9 points of last night's closing figures. Several of the prominent local spot houses were going over on this decline, however, and the market closed within 3 or 4 points of the best on the active position.

Late reports from Orleans said there was a better spot demand, while crop complaints from the south were not so numerous today, although night temperatures were said to be too low for any immediate plant development. The eastern belt forecast was for generally fair and warmer weather, but reported small offerings and free continental buying.

New Orleans, Sept. 23.—The cotton market was quiet but steady today, dull at times, but making little show of selling. Both sides seemed inclined to await developments in Washington in connection with legislation affecting cotton contracts. On the long side there was much taking of profits and offerings from this source caused setbacks, but the market closed steady at the advance in spot of this selling.

On the opening the time was steady and prices were 10 to 13 points up. Cables were much higher than due, the Liverpool market refusing to follow the decline on this side of the water yesterday. Private messages from that market stated that traders there were impressed by the fact that the south offered no cotton by cable over night. The weather conditions prevailing over the belt were called unfavorable, as temperatures were too low east of the Mississippi and there was promise of rain again in the western belt.

In the early trading prices were 14 to 16 points over yesterday's close and around the middle of the morning this advance was widened to 15 to 17 points. Profit taking worked against the advance around noon and the advance was pared down to 3 to 4 points. In the afternoon there was less cotton offering and on a moderate demand the market advanced and closed at a net gain for the day of 13 to 14 points.

REAL ESTATE For SALE RENT TRADE REAL ESTATE

Real Estate For Sale.

A SMALL INVESTMENT AT THE RIGHT TIME IS A FUTURE PROFIT. NOW IS THE TIME AND HERE ARE SOME GOOD INVESTMENTS.

75 foot south front lot on Farwell Heights, within one block of the new school, the price is $1000, and terms to suit purchaser.

A choice corner lot on Provident Hts. at $1500.

6 well located lots on Barnard, $4500.

Two high and beautiful lots on Morrow street for $500 each.

A bargain in three well located lots on Austin avenue for $1150 each.

A choice corner lot on Colcord at $250 less than the prevailing prices on this class of property.

One of the best apartment house locations in the city, within three blocks of the Amicable building, at a figure that is indeed very interesting. If you are looking for an investment of this kind you want to see this property.

An almost new bungalow in the Baylor neighborhood for $3000; a small cash payment and the balance can be arranged to suit purchaser.

An extra fine corner lot on West avenue is for sale, and it will pay the prospective purchaser to investigate this before buying elsewhere.

A 7-room house on lot 70x220 feet, just four blocks from Baylor and less than half block from car, price $3000, worth more.

$4000 for a well located 4-room cottage on Sanger avenue, this place is not more than three blocks from Sanger avenue school and is a bargain.

Located within three blocks of the new Central high school, this is an exceptional opportunity for some one to get a first class close-in home for a small amount of money.

$7500 invested in a 10x165 foot lot (in fact, two lots) on a two-story modern house, as good a proposition as we could possibly offer, and you will arrive at the same conclusion upon investigation.

One of the choicest homes on North 17th street, for this see for yourself that it is a good investment.

Artistic and modern is the way we will describe a place we have on Washington street. If you want a real up-to-date home, see this.

A first class business investment on Franklin street, in a modern two-story brick, now occupied by a large business and bringing a good revenue.

One of the best located suburban grocery businesses in the city, together with a first-class brick store building. This investment gives a party an opportunity of securing a paying business at once and thereby avoid dealing in futures.

100 acres, 1600 ft. frontage, on the Waco at $125 per acre. This should prove attractive to any one desiring a nice place near the city.

One of the best stock farm propositions in Bosque county, consisting of 550 acres, 4 miles from Walnut Springs. We can make you a price on this property and will consider same trade.

We are always glad to go over our listings with you and we feel sure that if you are in the market, we can get that which you are looking for, at any rate call on us. We will be glad to see you.

GOOD INVESTMENTS. We offer the following—get busy if interested:

75-ACRE FARM. About 5 miles of Waco, right near the interurban, large 6-room residence, hall, two galleries, central heating, outfit, tank, etc.; fine truck land, about 60 acres in cultivation; special price for quick sale $100 per acre; will take some trade and easy loan; be assured, we will make this up if you want a place that can be subdivided and be a big money maker. We will show you.

500 CASH GETS NICE HOME. We have a new modern bungalow, well located near car and one block of Baylor, that only takes $200 cash payment to handle, balance like rent.

HERRING AVE. HOME. Well located, south front, 75x165, all conveniences, all well built, large barn, etc.; special price and on good easy terms.

LARGE BRICK BUILDING. On railroad switch, good location, two stories with elevator, etc., building 50x165 feet, we only have a few days longer on the special price and terms. Call on us if you want to make a good investment.

LARGE RESIDENCE AND SIX LOTS. Right near the Farwell Heights school, beautiful trees, etc.; will make a very special price for quick deal; can handle $1250. This is a good place for the money. The lots are worth what we ask for the whole place; in fact, lots nearly are selling for more. See us at once about other good propositions we have to offer.

TENDER IS DITCHED

T. & B. V. ENGINE NO. 5 FOLLOWS IT HALF WAY ONLY.

Peculiar Accident on the Rail Four Miles From Town of West Monday.

Engine No. 5 of the Trinity and Brazos Valley railroad hangs half in and half out of the ditch, alongside the tracks of the interurban, four miles south of the town of West.

This engine was leased by the construction contractor from the railroad company. It has been used in drawing trains for gravel. Monday afternoon, while it was "backing" south, going at a rapid rate of speed, the water and oil in the tender caused the equipment to career from side to side, and finally the wheels left the track.

Tender Ditched, Engine Hangs.
In its swing from side to side the tender struck a telephone pole, and demolished it, breaking down the wires. At the north approach of a trestle bridge the tender fell sideways into the ditch along side, and the engine remained half in and half off the embankment. A force of men was engaged with jacks yesterday in trying to right it, but the process was slow. It will require a lot of work to repair the track at that point.

WOMACK ASKS BIG DAMAGES

H. & T. C. RAILROAD IS DEFENDANT IN A $15,140 SUIT.

MRS. VIC COMPTON SUES

Wants $5,250 From Crawford Telephone, Charging She Was Injured Through Negligence.

Alleging that Mary Lillian Womack was struck in the head and permanently disfigured and injured by reason of the negligence of the defendant company, F. B. Womack yesterday filed suit in the Nineteenth District court, as next friend, against the Houston and Texas Central railroad company, asking damages in the sum of $15,140. The petition alleges that a tongue to a truck, standing on the platform of depot of the defendant company at Calvert, fell, striking Mary Lillian Womack.

Asks $5,250 Damages.
Suit was also brought by Mrs. Vick Compton of Crawford against the Crawford Telephone company for damages in the sum of $5,250. The petition alleges that the defendant company was negligent in not having a lightning arrester on its wires, and that by reason of such negligence a lightning struck the telephone wire leading into the Compton residence and struck Mrs. Compton.

Sues Railroads.
J. W. Everts vs. the International and Great Northern and the Cotton Belt railroads is the style of another damage suit filed. Everts asks damages in the sum of $5,040, for alleged injuries sustained at the local Cotton Belt depot when an engine of the Great Northern struck a man standing near him and throwing the man against him in such a manner as to inflict injuries.

Lingenfelter Pays $500 Fine.
William Lingenfelter, convicted in county court on a charge of vagrancy and fined $500 by a jury, yesterday paid the fine and was released. The fine and costs amounted to $552.19. Lingenfelter left the court house in an automobile.

Lingenfelter was convicted in two cases. In the first a fine of $200 was assessed. An appeal was taken in this case, and the case is now pending action of the higher court. He made appeal bond in that case, paying off the other.

Pleads Guilty, Pays Up.
Theo. D. Polemenkos, proprietor of a pool hall upstairs at Fifth and Austin streets, pleaded guilty in county and justice court yesterday to charges growing out of permitting minors to play pool in his place. He was fined $20 and costs, making the fine $45 in this case. In Justice Richey's court he pleaded guilty to allowing minors to enter and remain in his hall. The fine and costs in this court amounted to $32.55.

The Walkers Appeal.
Appeal to the county court was taken yesterday by Q. E. and T. J. Walker from a conviction rendered by a jury in the city police court. They were fined $200 each on a charge of vagrancy. SMALL PROFITS TO NURSERYMEN

RAMSEY SAYS AVERAGE MAN GETS NOT OVER 4 PER CENT.

HOW FAKERS HURT BUSINESS

With No Knowledge Dishonest Individuals Sometimes Creep—Three Sessions Held First Day.

The average Texas nurseryman is engaged in a business which does not pay him more than 4 per cent profit. That is the opinion expressed by J. M. Ramsey of Austin, secretary-treasurer of the Texas Nurserymen's association, which convened in thirteenth annual meeting in room 11, Amicable building, yesterday morning at 9 o'clock.

He said that in making the statement he allowed a reasonable compensation for the labor and knowledge of the nurseryman. The object in making the assertion was to ascertain whether or not he was correct. His opinion was based upon the reports and the papers he had heard read. He suggested that during this annual meeting the nurserymen should probe into the subject so as to inform themselves on this important point. The matter will come up probably for discussion today.

Kirkpatrick "Talks Out."
Two sessions were held yesterday, morning and afternoon. E. W. Kirkpatrick of McKinney, during the course of an address at the afternoon session, said to the nurserymen: "It is your own fault that some of you get poor prices. Get good stock and you will get good prices when you sell." This remark provoked several of the nurserymen to call upon Mr. Kirkpatrick to modify his statement, which he did by saying that he spoke of the exception, not the rule.

Morning Session.
The morning session was called to order by President O. K. Phillips of Rockdale and the proceedings began with an invocation offered by John T. Sneed of Tyler. An address of welcome was delivered by M. Falkner of Waco. E. Pomeroy of Donna, who was programmed to respond to the welcoming address, being absent, Sam H. Dixon of the Houston Post was called upon and acquitted himself gracefully.

President Phillips then delivered an address to the nurserymen, complimenting them upon the interest they displayed in the association and the excellent work done by the members in the last year. He spoke encouragingly of the prospects for a greater and more effective organization and urged all to lend a hand in building it up during the coming year.

Secretary's Report.
The report of the secretary-treasurer, J. M. Ramsey, Austin, was read, showing that there was a deficit of $23 for the year. During the year $128 had been received and expended. The year was begun with a deficit of $511.8.

These committees were appointed at the close of the secretary's report: Auditing committee, J. H. Arbenz, Sarita; M. S. Shambarger, Tyler, and C. Mayhew, Tyler. Committee on resolutions, Will E. Munson, Denison; John H. Sneed, Tyler, and J. S. Kerr, Sherman.

The first paper was read by J. H. Arbenz of Sarita, who discussed "Flgs, Oranges and Other Citrus Fruits." He had on exhibition in the room a collection of fine specimens of fruit and the best methods of growing them. The fig crop, he said, is one of the most profitable in his section of the state.

Martin on Pecan Growing.
H. J. Martin of Port Arthur discussed "Pecan Growing in the Nursery," taking the place of W. D. Griffin, who was programmed for a paper on that subject. He said that the industry had not been as successful in Texas as it might be made if the proper methods were followed by the growers. "Increase of the Pecan Trade in Texas" was the subject assigned to Tom Wolf of Waco. Speaking from his own experience, Mr. Wolf said that the increase in the sale of flowers in recent years in Waco and in the state generally had been phenomenal. He related that when he first began business in this city some years ago, he had a bouquet was the most expensive thing purchased by his customers, whereas he now makes single sales of the value of $100 occasionally.

Baker Talks on Shade Trees.
J. C. Baker of Fort Worth, in a paper on "The Shade Tree Situation" at the afternoon session, in which he reviewed the condition of shade trees in the public parks and streets of cities and towns of the state and suggested that more time and attention and better care should be given to them.

The Present Supply of Nursery Trees of Peach, Plum, Apple and Pear for the Coming Season was assigned to J. E. Mayhew, Waxahatchie. He argued that the greatest of the nurseryman's difficulties is due to his stock being chosen by them for production. "They buy this quality of stock because it is cheap," he said, "and because they know that they must sell cheap to get any profit at all. Some of you get poor prices, but it is your own fault. Get good stock and you will get good prices when your customers have learned that they can depend upon your goods." He said that nurserymen should study deeper into the soil, too. "You should know all about the stock you are buying. You should be sure that the stock is healthy and vigorous. You can only get a healthy tree out of a healthy soil. Be careful where you get your trees and cuttings, plants and other stock and don't you try to grow a healthy tree in an unhealthy soil."

Exception Taken.
At the close of his remarks some exceptions were taken to casual statements reflecting upon nurserymen's honesty by one or two of the members. "We are not thieves," said one. "There may be a few dishonest fellows who have crept into the nursery business, just as they get into every other business, but the nurserymen, as a rule, are the most conscientious and honorable body in business in the state." Mr. Kirkpatrick promptly disclaimed any intention to reflect upon the general body of men in the business. He said he referred to the exception, not the rule.

To Get Right Prices.
"There are dishonest men in the business," said another member, "and they give the business a bad name because people judge nurserymen by what they have suffered at the hands of these fakers. We should get together and

Advance Notes on the Gowns, Suits and Dresses to be Shown Tomorrow

A word picture of the new Suits and Gowns to be revealed tomorrow—the conspicuous features this season are the increased fullness in the tunics or draperies, and the blousing of the bodices at the waist line. The collars are loosely fitting. Only one feature remains unchanged, and this is the skirt hem, which is tight if anything.

The Latest Moment Imported Gowns

The display of gowns, selected by a connoisseur, equally in touch with "what is what" in Paris, London and the United States, will be found larger and more satisfying than ever.

Exquisite—The new gowns with tunics and draperies, tapering flounces and tiered effects. You will also be pleased with the soft tones of Mahogany, Copper, Wistaria, Plum and Copenhagen in the various silks used in the fashioning of these charming gowns.

drive the fakers out of the business or out of the state."

In the absence of W. A. Yates, Brenham, who was down for a paper on "Which Is Best for Our Texas Citrus—Budded Roses or Roses on Their Own Roots?" The subject assigned to Mr. Yates was dismissed with a few brief remarks by Mr. Sneed. "Right Prices for Nursery Stock," a subject assigned to C. C. Mayhew, Sherman, was briefly treated. Mr. Mayhew complained that he had been tried with splendid success in Houston on roses, the mixture being diluted in sixty-to-one proportion with water.

Campaign Worth Millions.
"I believe," he said, "that the department of agriculture will be able to conduct a campaign this year with the co-operation of the orchardists that will be worth millions of dollars to the state." Further urging the use of the spray, he said that reports coming into the department show that there are damaging insects scattered all over the state. The department is always ready to go to the assistance of any man who is having trouble with his orchards. He explained how the department sent its men to the orchards to inspect the trees and to educate the orchardists in the best methods of growing fruit and protecting the yield against destructive agents such as the scale and insects.

To Advertise State's Resources.
Following the interesting talk by Mr. Dixon a general discussion on "Four Great Opportunities—The Texas State Fair, the American Pomological Society Show, the National Nutgrover and the National Corn Show." The discussion was led by J. S. Kerr of Sherman, who argued for a creditable showing to be made by the nurserymen and the state of Texas at each of these fairs and expositions. He said that the opportunities thus offered should be neglected, that each of them could be made to redound greatly to the profit of Texas by showing the world the wonderful agricultural resources of the state. The first of the shows referred to by Mr. Kerr is to be held in Dallas in November, the next in Washington, D. C., in November, the third in Houston and the last in Dallas. The big state fair, he added in a jovial tone, is the one thing that puts Dallas far ahead of Houston. This declaration provoked from Sam H. Dixon a loud protest, which was drowned in the laughter of the nurserymen.
